-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

The last subparagraph should be labeled --i-- instead of "I" so as to be consistent with the rest of the claim. Appropriate correction is suggested.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1-7 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Roe et al. (US 6,395,955 B1).

Roe et al. teach a diaper (20) to be worn by a user, comprising:

a center portion (37);

a rear belt (38) joined to said center portion (37);

a front belt (36) joined to said center portion (37);

wherein said center portion (37) said rear belt (38), and said front belt (36) have an inward facing surface (24) directed toward said user when said diaper (20) is worn and an outward facing surface (26) directed away from said user when said diaper (20) is worn;

Art Unit: 3761

a feces receiver (bodily waste activation device) (90), connected to said center portion (37) by an opening (96) in said center portion (37);

wherein said feces receiver (90) lies proximate said outward facing surface (26);

wherein said feces receiver (90) is bounded by said opening (96), a chamber interior side wall, and a chamber interior bottom wall;

wherein said side wall includes an undercut, so that the cross sectional area of said feces receiver interior chamber increases proceeding from said opening (96) toward said bottom wall, and structural support elements (94) proximate said side wall having sufficient strength to prevent the collapse of said feces receiver (90) under the weight of said user (column 38, lines 6-10)(see figures 12 and 13A, below).

Art Unit: 3761

Regarding claim 2, Roe et al. teach that the rear belt (38) has a first rear wing (30) and a second rear wing (30);

said rear belt (38) includes closure means (40) located proximate said first rear wing (30) and said second rear wing (30); said front belt (36) has a first front wing (30) and a second front wing (30); and said front belt (36) includes closure means located proximate said first front wing (30) and said second front wing (30)(see figure 6, below).

Art Unit: 3761

Regarding claims 3 and 4, Roe et al. at column 8, lines 4-25 incorporate by reference diaper fastening systems including adhesive strips and hook and loop fasteners.

Regarding claim 5, Roe et al. teach first and second leg reliefs (elastic side strips and/or side flaps)(50, 32).

Regarding claims 6 and 7, Roe et al. teach front and rear belt elastic portions (34).

Regarding claim 17, Roe et al. teach that the entire feces receiver (90) can be removed from the rest of the diaper to empty its contents, even if that requires destroying the diaper.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8-16, and 18-20 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The art of record does not disclose a diaper having a interior waste chamber defined by successive aligned openings in at least three vertically stacked absorbent layers such that each opening is greater in size in the z-direction downward from the top opening which faces towards a wearer during use, than the opening immediately above it such that the top opening is larger than the second opening under it which in turn is larger than the third opening under the second opening.
